

CHAD E. FOSTER

READ CHAD E. FOSTER'S RESUME AND YOU KNOW HE'S A RAINMAKER

A job creator, billion-dollar revenue generator, change management leader, innovator, and successful corporate exec. What's not so obvious? He's blind. Yet when Chad engages audiences, he makes it clear that he didn't let his loss of eyesight as a young adult confine him. He tackled obstacles as opportunities, becoming the first blind graduate of Harvard Business School's leadership program and later developing software to do what Oracle said couldn't be done. Now Chad teaches that same overcomer mindset to corporations worldwide, delivering practical strategies to build resilience in challenging circumstances. Helping others to transform their difficulties into opportunities is an outcome that he honestly considers worth his loss of eyesight.

TESTIMONIALS

He engaged and energized the crowd with a laughter-filled presentation that delivered a high-impact message — earning a standing ovation from the hundreds of business leaders in attendance.

- Harvard University

The highlight of the Sales Kick Off conference was Chad's inspirational talk. I have eyes but lack your vision. You are indeed a visionary.

- MG, Senior Solutions Architect, IBM

KEYNOTES

- Blind Ambition
- No More Comfort Zones: Growth Through Adversity
- Diversity: The Engine for Innovation

AUDIENCE BENEFITS

- Learn how to turn disadvantages into advantages
- See obstacles not as setbacks but as a springboard to becoming stronger, sleeker, and more resilient
- Stop making excuses and start strategizing to win
- Develop and maintain the flexibility that enables people to emerge from adversity equipped to succeed
- Create a repeatable and sustainable culture prepared to thrive in change

